

Because MEWA is a Public Charter School, serving students through the Gresham/Barlow school district, MEWA's GED Program is restricted to serving students who are 21 years old, and younger. However, there are numerous public resources readily available for adults looking to earn their GED in the Portland Metro Area.

~ Educational Resources ~

Multnomah County Library:

Books: Any GED books labeled appropriate for the 2014 GED test. Library card required for checkout.

In-Person Tutoring/Classes: Generally free, based on availability. View website for potential upcoming dates:

<https://multcolib.org/adult-literacy>

Portland Community College:

In-Person Tutoring/Classes: Regular scheduling, classes may cost out of pocket for student, ranging between $37 and $158, but waivers are available based on student financial circumstances.

<https://www.pcc.edu/ged/>

Mt Hood Community College:

In-Person Tutoring/Classes: Regular scheduling based on semester dates, low cost classes available, highly qualified instructors, English and Spanish instruction available.

https://www.mhcc.edu/AboutABE_GED/

Portland Literacy Council:

In-Person Tutoring/Classes: Drop-in tutoring available throughout Portland Metro Area.

Scholarships for Testing Fees: Testing waivers available for students who pass official practice tests with scores of 145 or better.

(Application available: <https://www.portlandliteracy.org/ged-application/>)

<https://www.portlandliteracy.org/for-students/>